1 GRANGER's Biographical History of England, interleaved, in 11 vol. 4to. neatly half bound, Russia backs and corners, double lettered, containing the Biographical History of England, from Egbert the Great to the Revolution; comprehending a Collection of Portraits, selected and adapted to the History, and inserted in their proper places, including two hundred Portraits of Kings, Queens, Nobility, &c. By Hollar Faithorne, &c. This Assemblage of British Portraits has been the Labour and Industry of an eminent Collector for some Years, at the Sales and private Collections. Mr. Granger observes: "Such a Collection, properly formed, becomes a
" rich and plenteous Banquet, a full spread Table of choice
" and useful Communications, not only most delightful to the " Eye, but most instructive to the Mind: and another Advan-
" tantage is, the methodical Arrangement of such an Assem-
" blage has a surprising Effect upon the Memory: we see the " celebrated Contemporaries of every Age almost at one
" View; here the contents of many expensive Galleries and
" Museums are brought home, and reduced into the narrow
" Compass of a few vol. to be turned over, and admired at
" Leisure." 12l 12s

2 Nine large Historical Plates, by Vertue, fine Impressions, viz. Henry VII. and his Queen, &c.—The Children of ditto.—Charles Brandon, Duke of Suffolk, and his Duchesse.—Edward VI. granting the Charter of Bridewell, &c.—Lady Jane Gray.—Queen Elizabeth's Procession to Hunsdon-House.—Frances, Duchesse of Suffolk, and Adrian Stokes.—Lord Darnley's Cenotaph with the E. and C. of Lenox—and the Battle of Mussell-Hill, 2l 2s
